Appendix

In the 2022-23 academic year, the Net Promoter Score metric was added to multiple surveys conducted by Studer Education partners: Employee, Parent/Caregiver, and Student Experience Surveys. The Net Promoter Score measures a loyalty relationship between an organization and the survey participants. The scores are categorized into 3 areas: Detractors (unhappy, dissatisfied stakeholders), Passives (“on the fence”/neutral stakeholders), and Promoters (engaged, enthusiastic stakeholders). The NPS can range from -100 (lowest, everyone is a Detractor) to +100 (highest, everyone is a Promoter). The NPS is calculated by subtracting the percentage of Detractors from the percentage of Promoters.

When interpreting the NPS, the following guidelines may be helpful:

- 100 to 0: there are more detractors than promoters and a good opportunity for improvement
- 0 to 30: good performance, opportunity for improvement
- 30 to 50: strong performance, sustain or grow
- 50 to 100: excellent performance, sustain

The NPS questions for Parent/Caregiver Experience were:

1. How likely are you to recommend this organization as a good place for your child to learn?
2. How likely are you to recommend your child’s school as a good place for your child to learn?

In the first round of surveys administered in Fall 2022-Spring 2023, baseline NPS metrics were established for 23 partners.

Q1: How likely are you to recommend this organization as a good place for your child to learn?	Q2: How likely are you to recommend your child’s school as a good place for your child to learn?
Individual Partner NPS ranged from -11.27 to 76.25.	Individual Partner NPS ranged from -9.03 to 75.21.
Average Partner Network NPS: 30.68	Average Partner Network NPS: 32.67
25,486 stakeholders responded over 23 partners.
